About SCRAM

Welcome to the SCRAM Continuous Alcohol Monitoring (CAM) program – a productive alternative to incarceration. By adhering to court orders, the SCRAM Participant Agreement, and your own self-achievement goals, your SCRAM experience can be as personally beneficial as you allow it to be.

Following are the SCRAM basics for your information:

Transdermal Technology

SCRAM checks for alcohol consumption by detecting and measuring any ethanol through your skin's vaporous perspiration

Continuous Monitoring

SCRAM automatically tests for alcohol consumption every 30 minutes around the clock

Home Detention

SCRAM also monitors for presence/absence in the home during specified time periods

Tamper Alerts

SCRAM detects any attempts to tamper with, obstruct, or remove the bracelet

Ongoing Analysis

SCRAM stores and electronically transmits test results daily for evaluation and agency follow-up

Getting Started

Step 1: You MUST have an appointment to enroll in the SCRAM program (see reverse for contact information).

Step 2: Bring the following to your pre-scheduled appointment:

- Valid debit or credit card must be placed on file
- One-time service fee and daily monitoring fees
- Social security number
- Driver's license or identification card
- Name of judge, county, and court
- Probation officer's name and contact information
- Any court documents pertaining to your case

SCRAM-CA and You

SCRAM-CA and you both have a role in the SCRAM monitoring process:

SCRAM-CA: Installation and Set-Up

Explains and clarifies the SCRAM Participation Agreement before you sign it

Attaches the SCRAM bracelet to your ankle

Gives you a base station to plug into a telephone line or internet source at home or at work

Activates the bracelet to enable it to take readings and store and transmit data via the base station to the central monitoring station

SCRAM-CA: Client Management and Monitoring

Reviews daily reports and promptly notifies authorities of any confirmed noncompliance with court orders

Performs equipment maintenance, client support, fee collection, and de-installation

You: Continuous Accountability

Be near the base station daily at the agreed-upon time to enable data download and home confinement verification

Do not consume alcohol

Do not use products that contain alcohol

Do not tamper with, obstruct, or damage SCRAM equipment

You: Other Regulations

Alcohol-Based Product Avoidance: Do not expose the area around the bracelet to personal, house hold, or industrial products that contain alcohol

Court-Approved Travel: Plug the portable base station into any phone line or internet source to download data on schedule while out of town

Showering: Do take showers while wearing the water-resistant bracelet, but do not submerge it (no bathing or swimming) or you will incur the cost of its immediate repair

Payments: Make SCRAM payments on time

Paying for the SCRAM Program

Daily Monitoring Fee

Fees are based on program-specific criteria and apply for the duration of the monitoring period

One-Time Service Fee

The $100.00 fee covers installation and regular maintenance and servicing

Accepted Payment Methods

Visa, MasterCard, Discover, cash, or money order

Payment Schedule

SCRAM participants must adhere to payment plan agreement at first appointment.

Failure to Pay

Failure to make timely payments may result in court notification

Payment Plans

Various options are available for qualified applicants and must be arranged with SCRAM-CA before your SCRAM installation
